Miss Margaret L. Cowan, 77, Quakertown, Eager To Sign Confession

'WORK ON EARTH DONE'

Authorities Advise Her To Think It Over For Awhile

(By International News Service) ALLENTOWN, Aug. 17.—Advised to "think it over," Miss Margaret L. Cowan, Quakertown, 77-year-old retired nurse held for the "mercy slaying" of her sister in the visiting room of the State Mental Hospital, here, today reiterated statements that she is "ready for the electric chair."

"My work on earth is done. If they electrocute me tomorrow, that is all right. I am fully aware of what I have done," she told District Attorney John L. Cutshall.

Miss Cowan, formerly a nurse for some of the State's first families, announced she was ready to sign a full confession to shooting her sister, Mrs. Louella Sager, 67, to death, Tuesday.

Cutshall, however, refused to permit her to do so and sent her back to jail.

"Think it over for a few days," he said.

Police, meanwhile, announced that the aged ex-nurse—reportedly a victim of a persecution complex and "mandatory delusions leading to homicide"—had made elaborate preparations to kill her sister, a patient at the hospital for several years.

Polish Frontier Closed

Berlin, Aug. 17.—The Polish frontier facing Bohemia and Slovakia has been closed, a German official news agency dispatch stated today. The report gave no reason for the closing of the border. The unconditional return of Danzig to the Reich and "resettlement" of the Polish corridor problem were declared on high authority to constitute Germany's revised demand of Poland.

Regarding Danzig, the Reich stands firmly on Chancellor Hitler's speech before the Reichstag last April, and on the self-determination principle of President Wilson's 14 points.

In April, Hitler demanded Danzig as a German city, and an extra-territorial route across the Polish corridor. In return, he offered Poland trade concessions on the Baltic and a 25-year non-aggression pact.

Asked first for a compilation of German stands as outlined in April and the Reich's present demands, the spokesman said: "The Fuehrer's offer was made on condition that friendly relations would prevail between Germany and Poland. Since then, official Polish personalities of the highest rank have indulged in the wildest demands, while the Polish class has conducted a campaign claiming East Prussia and German territory even up to the Oder River."

Turning to the enlarged issue now involving the corridor, the German authority went on: "In view of the situation, and the danger involved for our eastern provinces, Germany is bound to insist on 'more solid ties' between the Fatherland and the severed province of East Prussia."

Questioned whether Germany still would be satisfied with extra territorial roads and railways through the corridor, the spokesman said: "We cannot mention any concrete proposal regarding the corridor yet."

AL. CAREY ALLOWS RIEGEL CLUB SIX HITS

Landreth Nine Defeats New Jersey Club by Score of 4 to 2

NEARLY A SHUT-OUT

The Riegel Ridge club of Riegelsville, N. J., who two weeks ago snapped Landreth nine's winning streak at 14 games, was defeated last night by the Farmers at Landreth Ball Park, 4-2.

Al Carey pitched for the Farmers and the visitors were fortunate they escaped a shut-out. Carey allowed but six hits, struck out nine and issued no passes. For the first six innings he allowed only three hits.

Two were out in the seventh when Phillips' hit bounced over Warwick's head for two bases; Deboosky fumbled Hendershot's grounder; A. Hutrick and Grube followed with hits, giving the visitors two unearned runs.

Bob Godown, a left-hander, started on the mound for Riegel Ridge but was batted out of the box in the second inning. Grube, who replaced him, held the Farmers to one hit—a single by Dougherty in the third—and blanked them for the rest of the game.

Landreth scored in the opening inning on Rockhill's hit, Liberatore's sacrifice, and Lodge's single to right field.

Dougherty started the second with a two-base hit to left field, VanSant beat out a slow one to short, Carey singled to right field, counting Dougherty; Rockhill bunted safely toward third, Liberatore scored VanSant and Carey with a single to left field; Rockhill tried to reach third on the hit but was out, Laubach to Hammerstone. Godown was replaced by Grube on the mound who retired the next two batters without further scoring.

Jesse Vansant caught a fine game and got a hit at an opportune time. Johnnie Miksis' ankle is not well yet but it will be in shape for him to take his place in the outfield on Sunday.

Landreth will play Riverside at Landreth Ball Park, Sunday, in the

To "Mom and Pop"

(By "The Stroller") The Post Office Department receives some interesting pieces of mail during the course of a routine business day—interesting as far as addresses are concerned.

Here's an address on an envelope that was promptly delivered by the local Post Office: "Mom and Pop, Box 1, Bristol."

The sender, a little boy, had every faith that the letter he wrote his parents from a seaside resort would be promptly and accurately delivered.

The Post Office didn't let the little fellow down, although "Mom and Pop" is making it rather general!

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

It takes more than heat to hold down the attendance at a meeting of the Loyal Republican Club of Bucks County, and Monday night was no exception as more than 300 members turned out at the club's business meeting at Buckingham.

All the Republican candidates for county offices were on hand to receive the official greetings and best wishes of a loyal band of supporters. They planned to be present at the September meeting to be known as "Candidates' Night," to be held the night before the primary election, September 11th.

With a membership that has passed the 1800 mark, the club is still growing rapidly. Monday night 20 new members were received.

Featuring the meeting was an excellent address by Kenneth Kressler, of Easton, county chairman of Northampton county, who told his Bucks county friends that "it is a pleasure to attend a meeting like this where a large group of Republicans can get together and talk things over." Kressler reminded his listeners that Northampton county for the first time in 44 years is now Republican. He assured his Bucks county friends that they are fortunate in being able to hold meetings like those held by the Loyal Republican Club.

Thirty attended the meeting of the Newtown Garden Club which was addressed by Mrs. Betty Grandy, of Norfolk, Va., at Newtown.

Mrs. Grandy has recently returned from Europe where she went in June with members of the International Gardeners' Association. She told of the flower shows and spoke particularly of the planting on the estates in England and Ireland.

Mrs. Grandy and Mrs. Mary Linton were appointed to judge the bouquets at the meeting. For arrangement, first place was given to Mrs. William Longhery and second to Mrs. Andrew Byles. For specimen bloom, Mrs. Lucy Porter received first place, and Mrs. Paul Woodman, second.

It was announced that Friday, October 6, has been set as the tentative date for the annual flower show of the club.

Five bouquets were reported having been sent to the sick during the month, and the club sent flowers in memory of the recent death of Mrs. Edward Briggs, a member of the club.

The following were appointed to have charge of bouquets for the library during the next four weeks: First week, Mrs. Lucy Porter; second week, Miss Jessie Wilson; third week, Mrs. John Lagar; fourth week, Miss Cora Willard.

In order to register for the various courses they will take this coming

IS FINAL EXTENSION

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 17.—An extension of time for completion of the new $80,000 sewer plant has been granted the Philadelphia contractor, Frank J. Glueck. The extension is until August 30th, and is the last to be granted, state council members.

Workmen will start today to erect the high wire safety fence around the plant.

The new plant will be capable of taking care of any growth or town expansion for the next 15 to 20 years. Modern in every detail, the Doylestown plant is worth an inspection trip from anyone.

Supervision of the work so far as the United States Government has been concerned has been in charge of Michael Madera, resident engineer in inspector for the Progress Works Administration, whose contract expires September 10.

The entire project has been under the engineering supervision of William H. Boardman, Jr., Philadelphia. Winfield O. Weisel is the general inspector on the job, representing the borough.

The final work at the new plant, now under way, is the construction of a new settling bed. Workmen will pour concrete on this section today and all concrete work will be completed this week.

Relief Crippling State Industry

Harrisburg, Aug. 17.—Warning that Pennsylvania industry would be crippled if the State must continue to carry a relief load of $200,000,000 a biennium, the State Joint Legislative Commission today urged speedier conformity by county assistance boards to provisions of the Pierson "no work, no dole" law.

Representative Elwood C. Turner, Republican, Delaware, chairman of the Commission, and Speaker of the House of Representatives, scored tardiness of county boards in finding projects to put the work relief plan on a workable basis, declaring: "The Pierson bill is no good unless county boards realize that it is their job to tackle this relief problem now."

One Killed; Carrier Launched Ahead of Schedule

Belfast, North Ireland, Aug. 17.—One person was reported killed, many were injured and thousands were imperilled today when the 23,000-ton aircraft carrier Formidable launched itself ahead of schedule.

The vessel broke loose and slid down the ways half an hour prior to the time set for the official launching. The accident occurred when scaffolding supporting the ship suddenly broke.

Authorities said it was only by a stroke of good fortune that the warship slid into the water instead of falling on the crowd assembled to witness the launching.

Plan 300,000 Job Series

Harrisburg, Aug. 17.—Falling into line with other administration departments, the General State Authority today disclosed plans for a 300,000-job series of WPA projects in an effort to make "absolutely certain" that there would be no shortage of projects.

The authorities, forced to drop its proposed $20,000,000 second building program and lack of PWA funds, outlining a WPA schedule calling for grading and drainage and building of roads and walks and buildings completed under the original $51,000,000 program.

The State WPA quota for September was increased 21,000, from 129,000 to 150,000, but the authorities revealed it was pressing Washington for speedy approval of additional projects.

Poor Mr. Wallace

August 16. AS THE New Deal approaches the end of its seventh year, probably the most pathetic figure in it is that of Mr. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture. In no other phase of this extraordinary Administration is the confusion as great or the collapse as complete as in the department over which he presides.

AS MR. WALLACE reviews the record since he entered the Cabinet, his feeling must be one of the deepest discouragement. He is far too intelligent a man not to know the extent of the failure of the Roosevelt farm policies and much too conscientious not to be appalled at the cost. In the whole history of government no such vast sums have been poured out with so negligible result. It is, in fact, a shocking picture which those who undertook to regulate the agricultural production of the country look upon today.

THE SIMPLE truth is that, with the major crops, which these planners have dealt, the situation is worse than before they started. An incredible number of millions have been expended without fundamentally improving conditions in any direction. Caught in a sprawling, ill-conceived, unworkable legislative tangle, year after year, Mr. Wallace has been compelled to struggle with a new price-fixing-subsidy scheme in place of the one just failed. After six years of this it would seem

JOHN M. MULLANEY INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Philadelphian Was Formerly Employed As Salesman By A Bristol Concern

STRUCK ON LINKS

Clothing Torn To Shreds; Companion Rendered Unconscious by Bolt

A former employee of a Bristol firm, John M. Mullaney, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning as he searched in the rough of a Philadelphia golf course for a ball yesterday afternoon.

The victim is John M. Mullaney, aged 35 years, of 3230 N. 17th street, Philadelphia.

Mullaney was employed as a salesman by Kalamazoo Stove Company, here, from April until July, this year. During his employment here he commuted to Bristol daily.

A companion of Mullaney, Albert Vallen, 28, of 843 Brill street, was knocked unconscious by the bolt from the skies.

The freak bolt which killed the one young man preceded by a half hour a severe electrical storm.

The two were searching in the rough on the Juniata Golf course, for a ball. It was at about 3.45 that the tragedy occurred.

It is stated that Mullaney had a new set of steel-shafted clubs. "Just a few minutes before this happened, he remarked how very much he liked them. He had the clubs slung over his shoulder, and was looking in the rough for his ball. I was about 15 or 20 feet away," explained Vallen.

"I said 'Come on, Jack, let it go, it's getting pretty black' for this big cloud was piling up, and it looked like the storm was going to break any minute. The words were hardly out of my mouth before something hit me, and I went down and out. I don't know how long I was 'out,' but when I woke up a Park Guard was there."

The shoes, socks, shirt and trousers worn by Mullaney were torn to shreds by the bolt, and in his head, just behind the ear, was a deep hole. He was pronounced dead at Frankford Hospital. Vallen was treated for shock and discharged.

Mrs. Mullaney is a distant relative of Mrs. Elton Ball, 113 Radcliffe St.

RIGHTS UNDER THE HATCH LAW

President Roosevelt was unduly concerned, as we see it, over the possibility that the Hatch bill, now law, might deprive Federal employees of civil rights. The late Justice Holmes disposed of that in a decision of long ago, characteristically compounded of one part legal theorizing and nine parts horse sense.

A municipal employee had come to the Supreme Court complaining that an ordinance limiting political activity deprived him of free speech. Said Holmes, free speech is your right under the Constitution, but the Constitution gives you no right to be a municipal employee.

There are abundant reasons why employees of the Government who are not policy-making officials should be excluded from political activity. One, sufficient in itself, is that the public pays them to attend to their jobs, not to play politics. It is only practical sense, to our mind, that the public should be entitled to set up conditions governing public employment, whether in the interests of efficiency or of political decency.

Of vastly greater import in this connection than any theoretical denial of civil rights, is the question of how the Hatch law is to be enforced.

This law, it might as well be recognized, is capable of evasion. It prohibits political activity by public employees but says nothing about public employees' wives, for example, or their friends. Moreover we doubt that any tribunal in the land—least of all a Democratic Committee on Credentials—will challenge Mrs. Public Employee if she turns up at a political convention, with her husband along to tote the suitcases.

The law is a step in the right direction, as the President grudgingly said. But, without sympathetic enforcement, it may prove an exceedingly short step.

PRIMROSE

To a convention of Young Democrats at Pittsburgh, the head of whom denounced the Hatch Act as "un-American," President Roosevelt paid his respects. He told them that if the Democrats, at their 1940 convention, nominated "conservative candidates, or lip-service candidates on a straddlebug platform," he'd have no part in the campaign. Thus are borne out the recent dispatches from Washington predicting that Mr. Roosevelt would go fishing on a battleship in remote waters, or otherwise indulge in piscatorial privacy, if he himself were not a candidate or didn't name one.

The President flings down the challenge. He doesn't reveal whether he expects to run again in 1940, or whether he could be induced to run, or whether a concatenation of world events might force him—from his viewpoint—to run. But he does announce that if there isn't a New Deal candidate, he'll "have no active part in such an unfortunate suicide of the old Democratic party."

Mr. Roosevelt scorns definition. What, for example, is the "old Democratic party"? At all events, none but the President would contend that it's the New Deal. It reminds us a bit of the recent debates in the British Parliament, when members argued whether the Balfour declaration meant a Jewish national home in Palestine, or making Palestine a Jewish National Home. "The old Democratic party" in the President's opinion, seems to mean a Roosevelt by the river's brim.

Ruth Willock

When "Miss America" is selected at Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5-10, Ruth Willock of Pennsylvania will carry the banner of Pennsylvania in the finals. Miss Willock has been selected "Miss Pennsylvania" last year and was an entry in the contest.

UNQUESTIONABLY, Mr. Wallace lost most of his long time ago; but he can't stop. He has to go on. To deal realistically and candidly with the facts—to say that not one of the schemes has worked; that the goal is as far away as before; that the price levels are lower than they have been since 1933; that the great sums so prodigally expended have had only temporary effect—to say these things is to confess to a failure so gigantic that no one in the Administration can contemplate it without shuddering.

It has, in fact, been a long time since any Administration spokesman made a claim of what had been done for the farmers, though every year, with the new scheme, the propaganda machine continues to promise what will be done.

ACTUALLY, there is no escape from the fact that the wheat and corn programs literally have fallen on pieces so far as their "objectives" are concerned. Wheat and corn both are now selling at the lowest price since 1933 and the reports of the Agricultural Department itself show a shocking decline in exports of American farm products. Specifically, the statistics show that farm product shipments abroad for the year ended May 1, 1939, are 21 per cent. less than for the year ended May 1, 1938.

AS for cotton, the story is even more distressing and the plight of the cotton grower generally recognized as acute. Through the Government warehouse storage policy an entire year's crop has been removed from the market and the American price, at enormous Government expense, kept above the world price. As a result, the total exports of cotton for the year were about 3,400,000 bales, or much less than for any year in sixty years—fifty per cent. less than for 1938. Naturally, other cotton-producing countries have stepped into the world markets which we have abandoned and naturally, there has been an outcry at home.

TO correct this, the AAA now proposes to subsidize cotton exports—that is, raw cotton—to the tune of 1½ cents a pound. Thus, having at great cost taken our cotton off the world market, we are now about to spend millions in an effort to put it back. Aside from the patent fact that this policy clashes directly with Secretary Hull's reciprocal-trade agreements, it does not make sense in other ways. In effect, as the New York Times points out, we will be giving foreigners cheaper raw cotton to compete against our own manufacturers in the world market.

THE effect to compensate by also subsidizing exports of finished cotton goods and limiting cotton goods imports only builds up a new and cumbersome series of

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

If RKO Radio Pictures had scoured the stage and screens of the world, it could not have better cast Leslie Howard and Bette Davis than in "Of Human Bondage," which enjoyed high favor with the audience at the Bristol Theatre yesterday.

Howard, as the sensitive young idealist of Mangham's classic imbues his characterization with a wisdom and tenderness seldom seen on the screen.

We dream, long, pity, suffer, love and hate with him in the role of Philip Carey, the medical student victimized by an unrequited love for heartless Mildred, triumphantly played by Miss Davis.

GRAND THEATRE

"Daughters Courageous," the comedy of domestic life which opens today at the Grand Theatre, could be termed a first cousin to the highly successful "Four Daughters," but it is not a sequel to that picture.

The similarity starts with the cast. Clarence Hollenback, 550 Linden street, is a patient in Abington Hos-mer picture is also in the new one; then it had the same director, and besides it was written by a writing team one of whose members was also co-author of the screenplay which was last year's hit.

While the plot concerns different people than those in "Four Daughters," there is a basic similarity in that the new picture is also about the joys, the sorrows, the laughs, the tears in the lives of a genuinely "folksy" family.

RITZ THEATRE

Proclaimed the greatest of all sea dramas, "Mutiny on the Bounty" shows today at the Ritz Theatre after being more than a year in production. Aside from entertainment, it presents an authentic visual document of one of the most notable chapters of maritime history—the mutiny on the H. M. S. Bounty 150 years ago. In the annals of the sea there is no more fascinating story than that told of the Bounty which set sail from England in 1787, bound for Tahiti.

HALL-ALUMINUM NINE TO MEET R. & H. TEAM

The Hall Aluminum and the Rohm and Haas nines will clash this evening on Landreth's field in the first game of a three-game series to determine which nine shall meet the Diamond team for the championship of the Bristol Twilight League.

The clubs are about evenly matched and a good tilt is expected. The Hall team earned the right to be placed in the playoff series by a brilliant climb up the percentage ladder after starting the season with eight straight losses. Nine straight triumphs were recorded by the airplane builders before they were stopped. The winning streak carried them from the cellar to second position, although two defeats at the close of the season enabled the Rohm and Haas team to deadlock them for second.

Rohm and Haas, champions of last season, had an in-and-out season, only at times flashing the form which took them to the 1938 crown. They barely got in the playoff, and had to win their final two games to do it.

Most likely the starting hurlers will be Reds Gallagher, for Hall; and Edie Sullivan for the chemical workers. The Hall team will use the following in their line-up: Dougherty, Williams, Sagolla, Forman, Bill Dougherty, Bauroth, McCarne and Stomph. Rohm and Haas has J. Dougherty, Locke, Dick, Massilla, Oppman, Brunner, Rockhill and Black.

Game will begin at 6:00 sharp.

FIFTH WARD CLUB WINS SOFTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Behind the brilliant pitching of Quindo, the Fifth Ward Sporting Club softball nine won the championship of the Community League, by blanking the Manhattan Soap Company nine last evening at the high school field before a capacity crowd.

With Quindo on the hill, the Warders encountered little difficulty in subduing the soap makers as he held them to three scattered hits and with the exception of the sixth was never in serious trouble. In the sixth, the Manhattaners loaded the bases with no one out but Quindo pulled through in fine style and fanned the next three batters to face him.

Leading the Fifth Ward team with the club was Galzerano and Pica. Galzerano had a triple and single which accounted for four tallies while Pica connected for three out of three.

Downs pitched good ball for the soap team and for four frames battled Quindo toe to toe but weakened in the fifth and the Warders went on to victory.

Tonight on the Wood Memorial Field, Pine street, the Bristol Saxons will meet the Catholic Boys Club in the third game of a crucial series. These teams have met twice this year and each team has won once, so tonight is the rubber match.

The Saxons will start Anthony Palumbo on the mound with Joe Chalela behind the plate. A. Chalela will cover first, Nick Palumbo on second, Sam Fiorelli on short, and Bert Barbetta on third. Jim Riccio, Mike Angelo and Fred Clott will patrol the outfield. A large number of substitutes will be on the sidelines waiting for an emergency call to see action.

The Catholic Club will use Joe Quig-

A large crowd is expected to be on hand when Joe Quigley makes his first delivery to the Saxons' leading slugger, Joe Chalela. Game will start at 6:30 sharp.

Pull Negotiation Door Ajar

Warsaw, Aug. 17.—Poland, pulling the door to negotiation with Germany further ajar, today in an authoritative statement on the Danzig question is barely hinted at the possibility of a compromise. "Poland's viewpoint regarding the possibility of a four or five power conference, for direct negotiations with the Reich, was stated to be:

"First, Danzig must be connected with Germany, unless Germany renounces the idea of Anschluss."

The same authoritative Polish quarter today insisted that Germany had exaggerated stories of disturbances on the Silesian front.

Democrats Give Slant On Third Term

Washington, Aug. 17.—Fifteen Democrat senators believe that if President Roosevelt is nominated for a third term, the Republicans will win the 1940 Presidential election, Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, of Indiana, declared today.

However, Van Nuys, original leader of the Senate battle against the President's Supreme Court bill, believes the President can get their third term if he so desires. He added, though, that either the President or one of "the political capons" nominated will be defeated.

What Do You Know About Health?

By FISHER BROWN and NAT FALK

Answers: 1. He was a member of the U. S. Public Health Service, a great scientist and a brave man who taught us that the right kind of food will prevent a disease called "pellagra". 2. Natives of Sumatra believe the possession of a great medicine spoon, which is over three feet long, will insure good health. The most precious gift they can bestow is one of these huge utensils. 3. According to Dr. Norman J. J. White, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine at New York University and Chief of the Medical Service, Psychiatric Division of Bellevue Hospital, "Milk delays absorption of the alcohol. It gives you other fluids, calories, vitamins and salts. Drink an eight ounce glass of milk for every one and a half of liquor and you probably won't celebrate too much."

DOPE PROBLEM CALLED WORSE THAN THAT OF BAD RUM

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(UP)—Dr. John J. Shaw, State Health Secretary, described marijuana addiction among Pennsylvania high school students as a "worse problem than bootleg whisky ever was in prohibition days" and revealed today he would appoint a board to control the narcotic weed.

The four-member board he expects to appoint within two weeks will devote its time exclusively to detection of growing marijuana and education of organizations in the appearance of the habit-forming plant, the Health Secretary said.

Shaw said that, contrary to general belief, smoking of "reefer" cigarettes is spreading more rapidly in the smaller communities than in the larger ones, presumably because of fewer possibilities for entertainment in the more sparsely populated sections.
